

Butler Peak

Butler Peak Fire Lookout (elev. 8,537 ft.) is located in the San Bernardino Mountains between the towns of Green Valley Lake and Fawnskin. The area is surrounded by low lying shrubs and peppered by pine trees. To say that the views from this tower are breath taking is an understatement. At 8,537 feet high, this incredible vantage point provides a 360 degree view of not just the San Bernardino forest, but what seems like all of Southern California and beyond. Laid out before you is a vista that includes Lake Arrowhead, Big Bear Lake, San Gorgonio mountain, Holcomb Valley, San Bernardino, Los Angeles and on a clear day, even Catalina. Butler Peak is an experience that you are not going forget.
